Dear Friend:

The Executive Committee of the N. E. NonResistance Society at a meeting recently held, voted, that letters be addressed to all persons known to have adopted the principles of Non Resistance, or who are favourable to their free discussion, stating the claims & the wants of the Society, & requesting such pecuniary aid at their hands as the cause requires. It is in obedience to this vote that this letter is addressed to you.

It is unnecessary for us to enlarge upon the objects of the Society. They are briefly set forth in the Declaration of Sentiments, which we have put forth to the world & in the Constitution of the Society. We have neither time nor space to expatiate upon the infinite importance of the principles we hold, & which we would fain apply to the business of the world as well as to the regulation of our individual hearts & lives - principles, the adoption or rejection of which, will we are assured determine the happiness or the misery of the human race throughout all time, & whose influences will reach beyond the bounds of time & stretch far into the endless ages of eternity. The law to which we have submitted ourselves, through obedience to which we have found rest to our souls, whose light burden & easy yoke we have combined together that we may, in all love, persuade our brethren to take upon themselves, is that paramount law of our being, to bring to light & exemplify which, the Son of God came into the world and, after a life of privation & persecution was at last nailed "for our advantage to the bitter cross;" - even the perfect & peaceable law of Love. We are confirmed in the belief, that this is the great law of our nature, by beholding in the world around us the mournful signs of the ruin which men have brought upon themselves by refusing to obey it. We see it in the vaunted, yet vain, schemes of Government, which they have devised for their own protection - combinations, which crush the poor & ignorant offenders, while they elevate wealthy & instructed criminals to the rank of the makers or administrators of their laws. We see it in the corrupt churches which make our land a spiritual desolation. We see it in an ambitious and self-seeking Clergy, who claiming a title from Heaven to lord it over the consciences of their brethren, pervert ~~souls~~ from the right ways, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men; - teaching that the impartial Father of all the dwellers upon the earth, sanctions the enslaving & imbruting of his own children; that He permits the traffic in the poison which consumes the bodies and the souls of men; that He is not displeased at the indulgence of ambition, covetousness & revenge, provided they be displayed in certain modes of man's own appropriating; that He allows, nay commands, man to slay his brother, if urged to the deed by the resistance of sudden evil, if the doom of death be pronounced by a tribunal of man's creation, or if he be ~~called upon~~<sup>commanded</sup> by the authorities of the land to do battle with the enemies, whom he is commanded in all cases to bring in & loose.

We see it in the licentiousness & vices of private life & in the public profligacy & corruption that disgrace this age. We discern it in the anarchy & violence which disturb our domestic peace and in the baseless rumors, <sup>ours</sup> presaging the approach of war, which are heard muttering along <sup>the</sup> frontier.

For all these evils which have fallen upon men through their having forsaken the law of love, we see but one remedy - & that is, immediate repentance and an instant return to their allegiance.
It is to urge upon all men this only way of safety. That we have associated together. It is that we may be enabled to do this work vigorously & efficiently. That this application is made to you by us. Standing, a small company of men & women, banded together to war with spiritual weapons against the evil that is in the world, encamped on every side by the bitter opposition of the powerful in church & state, cruelly misrepresented & that too by men from whom we might have expected, of whom we do still expect, better things, derided by the unthinking, feared & hated by the sagacious, to whom can we look for support & assistance, besides him who is our strength, but to those who have assumed the same cross with ourselves and to those who regard our warfare, though from a distance, with eyes of sympathy & interest? To all such we confidently appeal. We want increased means for propagating the truth, we hold dear. Our efforts, hitherto, have been cramped by the narrowness of our resources. Still we have printed & circulated many tracts, have established The Non-Resistant, & have constantly employed an indefatigable & devoted agent in the field. With added means we can exert a mighty & moral force. Able & devoted men are ready to enter upon the work, if their subsistence can be secured to them. We have materials for a mighty army of tracts. We are ready to take the field & with great effect if the <sup>sincere</sup> cause of this holy warfare be furnished upon those who have subscribed in this great enterprise & upon them who wish it <sup>well</sup> <sub>to us</sub> as we rely with confidence for our supplies. Upon you, dear friend, especially depend for pecuniary & other help. We know that the mere statement of our necessities is all that is needed to open your purse & heart. They who have profited upon the world their devotion to this holy cause, or their sympathy with it, need no laboured appeals to excite them to a spasmodic generosity, or to overcome their self-ishness which they have renounced before God. But we pray, you not to delay your contribution. If this faint appeal have awakened in your breast a resolution to cast in, of your abundance or of your poverty, into the treasury of the Lord, let not the holy impulse depart without accomplishing the purpose of its mission. "Hold the fleet angel fast until he blesst thee." Do not withhold your gift because it must needs be a little one. Remember the widow's mite. Remember, too, that not many noble, nor many wise, nor many wealthy have been called to this odious reform. Give according to your means, give beyond them, being assured that it will be repaid unto you a hundred fold. Above all do what you do quickly. We cordially invite you to remit forthwith such an amount as you feel called upon to give, directed to either of the subscribers, or to Charles K. Whipple, treas. Should it not be convenient to transmit the money immediately, we would ask you for a pledge to be redeemed before the annual meeting in Sept<sup>t</sup>. We would further entreat you to urge upon all your neighbors, who think with you on this momentous subject, the duty of sending in their funds. We pray you neglect not this request.

We have not space to urge upon you the claims of the NonResistant. We know it is not necessary. Should you remit more than the subscription price ($1.) we shall place your name upon the subscription list, if it be not already there. We hope & are confident that you will exert yourself to extend the circulation of our organ among your friends & neighbors - as well those that are willing to hear as those that have received the faith. We hope you will regard yourself as a voluntary agent to procure subscribers to it - not forgetting the indispensable condition of payment in advance.

We make no apology for this long letter. We know its object & our motives will commend themselves to your heart.

Hoping to hear speedily from you, we remain, Dear Friend, affectionately yours, in the bonds of peace & love.
